Mrs. John Colvin of Springfield, who became demoralized during a recent religious revival there, attempted to commit suicide by sitting down in front of an approaching C. & O. train. It required two strong men to drag her from the track just in time.

Mrs. Maggie Fleming entertained a number of her friends last night at her home in the Fifth Ward. Dancing and games were indulged in until the late hour, and all went home hoping that they would soon be again invited to a home where they could so thoroughly enjoy themselves.

You would think of going to a person's house to see them, wouldn't you?

TRY IT!
You would think of going to a person's house to see them, wouldn't you?

While once hunting near Aberdeen Talbot Sutton was attacked by a wild beast and fearfully lacerated.

Who in the devil is Talbot Sutton—Aberdeen Gravel Green.

We cannot "tell-but" thought maybe you could.

The capacity of the Chapel of Haywood was tested to its utmost last evening to witness an exhibition of the work of the class in physical culture. This most important branch of education under the direction of Miss Carrie Hays is receiving its full share of attention at Haywood, and the numbers gathered there last evening show that the people of Maysville are interested in everything that pertains to an all round education such as is furnished by this excellent institution.

Rev. W. O. Cochrane and family left yesterday afternoon at 4:35 for their new home at Bristol, Tenn. During his stay of four years in this city Mr. Cochrane made many friends. He was a man whom our citizens were proud to own. He was courteous, obliging, dignified, and one of the most striking representatives of the high culture of a Minister that has filled the pulpit of the Central Presbyterian Church. In fact, he was truly "a man of God." That he will be missed goes without saying. We cheerfully and heartily commend him to the good people of Bristol, and feel that they have been enriched from our midst one of our fairest flowers, that grows more beautiful as one becomes acquainted with it.

William Remington of The Paris Kentuckian-Citizen is announced as a candidate for Police Judge of Paris.

The House Representatives of Tennessee by a vote of 35 to 35 passed the bill requiring contestants for the office of Governor to give bond for $25,000 before beginning the contest.

HENRY C. BARKLEY.

Unexpected Death at Noon Yesterday of This Good Citizen.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE FUNERAL.

This community was shocked yesterday noon by the announcement that Henry C. Barkley was dead.

His demise was so unexpected that many refused to believe the report, for he had been in usual good health up to Tuesday, and even since that time had remained indoors only because of the inclement weather.

He had not even been ailed, but occupied the time in reading and in conversing with the members of his family; and only an hour before his death he had enjoyed a visit from an old friend from a distant city who had called to pay his respects.

Shortly before the end came he was seized with severe pains in the chest and sent for Dr. John A. Reed.

Lying upon a couch, with his physician and several members of his family near by, without uttering a word, he died.

Henry C. Barkley was born in Lewis county May 14th, 1830.

His parents were pioneers of that section, and their name occupies a conspicuous place in the annals of that county.

It was on the 7th day of the present month that THE LEIDGER contained this item.

"Half a century! Today just fifty years ago Mr. Henry C. Barkley began his business career in this city. January 7th, 1857, he engaged as clerk in the drygoods store of W. W. Lamar, which was then located where John T. Martin & Co. now are; and he has continued in business here uninterruptedly to this date. It is a wonderful record."

Little was it thought then that the record was so long, to close.

May 6th, 1861, he was married to Miss Isabella I. Howell, who survives with five children—two sons, Harry H. and Frank Owens, and three daughters, Misses Isabella L. Helen G. and Mary Florence.

An affectionate husband and constant father, his home life was a happy one. He leaves, also, three brothers, T. J. Barkley of Cincinnati, D. L. Barkley of Lawrence, Kas., S. B. Barkley of Index, Mo., and two sisters, Miss Eliza Barkley and Mrs. Rebecca Means, both of Tellerboro.

In 1860 Mr. Barkley became a member of the hardware firm of Plunkard, Owens & Barkley, and when fire destroyed their establishment in 1863 he and the late Colonel Frank S. Owens formed the well known firm of Owens & Barkley.

This firm grew rapidly in popularity, doing a business of some $400,000 annually; but the bankruptcy law, the panic of 1873, and the long-continued business depression finally told upon it, and it was forced to retire—not, however, without a full and satisfactory settlement with its creditors.

In 1880 Mr. Barkley began the shoe business on his own account, and this he continued to the day of his death.

Mr. Barkley had been a member of the Christian Church since 1848, and his purse was always open to the needs of the worthy.

As a citizen he was liberal and enterprising, and his helping hand will be missed in many ways.

As an active business man, he was next to the oldest in the city;—and it may be said, literally, that "he died in the harness."

A Lexow Committee is expected to reveal much rottenness in municipal affairs at Kansas City.

There were 169 couples married in Bourbon county last year. Of this number 90 couples were white and 79 were colored.

James Barrow, an attendant at the Spencer Asylum for the Insane in West Virginia, was beaten to death by an inmate.

There is already a conflict on between Sheriff Plummer and Judge Bennett of Campbell county as to who shall foot the bill for the Jackson-Walling scaffold. Sheriff Plummer wants the scaffold loaned by the Lexington authorities on which Laughlin was so successfully swung off, while Judge Bennett wants the county to build its own scaffold and preserve it for future use.

OUR DRUMMER BOYS!

What the Maysville U. C. T.'s Have Been Doing.

Who do we see, the wide world over, The man whose friends think lives in clover, But who that plant does not discover? The Drummer!
Who's always affable and neat, And does the world politely greet, Who keeps an eye out for the sweet— Fair Ladies— Although we cannot always praise, For sometimes he has naughty days, Despite he gets the Earth always? The Drummer!
Who risks his life in folding beds, And meets the nation when he needs, Some morning when he has two heads? His Woman!
Who sees above the carling wealth Of smoke he sits enthroned beneath, The face he loves in life as death? The Woman!
Who knows how lonely he can be, When times are tightest, jobs are free, Who does not let the public see His Heartache?
When weighed upon a balance fair, Enough of good and less are there, But of good, the greater share? Of Drummers? —Monte Moore.

The following representatives of our business-houses attended Court at Carlisle January 11th:
J. B. Russell, of J. C. Russell & Son;
J. R. Kackley, of J. T. Kackley & Co.
A. L. Hudson, of Frank Owens Hard ware Co.
George F. Brown, of C. D. Russell & Co.
J. W. Lee, of Lee & Ballenger.
William Trotter, of Hechinger & Co.
J. J. Fitzgerald, of Rowan Bros.
J. W. Fitzgerald, of Keith-Schneider Harness Co.

George Schroeder and Edwin Breen of the Keith-Schneider Harness Co. have been calling on their trade in West Virginia and Central Kentucky.

J. B. Russell, J. C. Kackley and George F. Brown have just returned from a trip through Central Kentucky.

C. H. Potter, ex-Supreme Junior Councillor of the U. C. T. C. is in Maysville last Saturday in the interest of Warner's Corsets. While here he called on several of our local members. He made a pleasant call on Bro. John Muse, who has been on the injured list since last February, he having been so unfortunate as to have had his leg broken. We were glad to see such an improvement. John says the U. C. T. is the only accident insurance.

"Old Batch." Joe Granger was in Carlisle this week. He is one of the boys, and very fond of the ladies. He would make a most genial companion for some young miss.

J. B. Comer, with J. James Wood, left last Monday for a trip through Central Kentucky.

J. L. Nicholson tried Lewis county this week.

Next week we will publish a little article entitled "A Traveling Man's View of It," and continue it in several issues of THE LEIDGER.

Oh, the snow and a good feather tick! Such elegant weather for a drummer! Such orders as will make the boss very sick! But we believe we'll take near the summer.

The writer had the pleasure of meeting Ben Carr, Past Councillor of Bluegrass Council, U. C. T., also Grand Councillor of Kentucky and West Virginia, at Carlisle last Monday.

A Boston drummer, says an exchange, complains that in traveling over the country he was invited to drink 4,000 times, and was never asked to go to Church at all. This shows in what estimation the Boston drummer is held.

A merchant named Sam Smith from one of our smaller places called on one of our leading hardware houses a few days ago and ordered a quantity of goods. He was politely received, and one of the principal salesmen showed him over the establishment. On reaching the fourth floor the customer, seeing a speaking tube on the wall, the first he had ever seen, asked: "What is that?"

"Oh, that is a speaking tube. It is a great convenience. We can talk with it to the clerks on the first floor without going down stairs."

"Can they hear anything that you say through it?"

"Yes; and they can reply."

"You don't say! May I talk through it?"

"Certainly."

The visitor put his mouth to the tube and asked: "Are Sam Smith's goods packed yet?"

The bookkeeper in the office supposed it was the salesman who had asked the question, and in a moment the waiting clerk came back: "No, we are waiting for a telegram from his town. He looks like a slippery customer."

For a half hour Bob was busy trying to explain to Mr. Smith, and finally succeeded in convincing him that this is customary when selling a new man.

We hope before the meeting of the Grand Council of Kentucky and West Virginia, U. C. T.'s, to see the membership of Maysville Council increased to 50. Constitutions will soon be mailed to all who are eligible, and it is hoped they will be read with care; also a Committee will call on the same persons and get their views. It may be possible that the next meeting of the Grand Council will be held in Maysville, although the writer does not favor same until 1900, when we want to show the boys what we can do. Yours, COUNSELLOR.

Fire, Lightning and Tornado Insurance by W. N. How, Agent, No. 37 West Third street.

There never was a better time to advertise than right now—no better local paper than THE LEIDGER.

T. L. Green, County Clerk, Mt. Olive, Ky., buys old United States and Foreign Postage and Revenue Stamps, and pays liberal prices for same. If you have old stamps, dating from 1830 to 1875, send them to him and get prices.

WILLIS DEAD.

The Minister to Hawaii Dies in Honolulu of Pneumonia.

He Contracted a Cold in San Francisco, Some Time Ago.

While on his Way Back to the Interior the Body Laid in State in the Fort.

Three Hours Remains to be Brought to Louisville.

(Correspondence of the United Associated Presses per Steamer.)
HONOLULU, Jan. 7, via SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—United States Minister Albert S. Willis died at his residence yesterday at 8 a. m. after several months' illness. The direct cause of death was pneumonia, which he first contracted in San Francisco early last year. His condition has been at times such that gave his family hopes of his ultimate recovery, and again it was precarious to a degree that filled his physicians with grave alarm. He has been surrounded at all times by the best medical treatment in the city and every care was given the minister, but in spite of a vigorous constitution, which has assisted him in battling with the disease, he succumbed after long and severe suffering.

It is not known whether an escort will be sent with the remains but it seems to be the opinion of some of the citizens that a representative of the foreign office should be detailed as an escort to accompany the remains to Louisville and turn them over to the United States consul.

Until the funeral takes place a detail of gentlemen, selected by the minister of foreign affairs will remain at the Willis residence.

Directly the intelligence of the death of Minister Willis was received by the government the flags on the judiciary building and military headquarters were lowered to half mast. Most of the business houses and the shipping followed suit as soon as the death was known.

Mrs. Willis is nearly prostrated from the long care of her husband. The family expects to sail for home with the remains on the steamer Australia on the 13th. The Hawaiian government will accord a full funeral to the deceased representative of the United States tomorrow. The body will lie in state during the morning in the former consul's room. Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. in Central Union church. The procession to the cemetery, where the body will be placed in the receiving vault until the sailing of the steamer, will be preceded by the military band from the United States steamer Albatross. President Dole and the chief officers of the government will follow in the funeral procession.

It will be the last official funeral since the burial of Kalakaua. Mrs. Willis left a small estate but ample insurance.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Albert S. Willis was born in Shelby county, Ky. He served as a democratic representative from the Fifth Kentucky (Louisville) district in the Forty-third Congress. He was an active, energetic man who was succeeded by Mr. Cantrill.

After the mission of Paramount Commodore Blunt to Hawaii, Willis was made to the president alleging that Queen Liliuokalani had been wrongfully unseated from the throne of the Hawaiian Islands by United States intervention. Mr. Willis was appointed by President Cleveland in September, 1893, minister to Hawaii, and was sent with sealed instructions to demand that she return to her throne on condition that she grant general amnesty to those concerned in setting up the provisional government and recognize all the bona fide acts and obligations of the queen referred to in the stipulation that Mr. Willis eventually recognized the de facto government, and was subsequently accredited to it. The anxiety of his position had a marked effect upon his health and appearance. When he left for Honolulu he was a fine specimen of physical development with a full black beard and hair. When he returned on leave two years later his hair was white and he was in appearance that of his former self. He discharged his exceedingly difficult duties in Hawaii with courage and discretion and was popular there in spite of the adverse circumstances which surrounded him from the start.

President Cleveland was deeply affected by the news of the death of Willis. It had known Mr. Willis for many years, and it is said that he had been a close friend of his. He was an honest and thoroughly capable man whom the president held in the highest esteem, and of whose services he had the deepest regret.

Wayter to Meet Gomez.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—A Jacksonville (Fla.) special to the Herald says that Gen. Weyler, according to reports received there, has again left Havana with his columns for the field. This time the captain general marches in the direction of the borders of Matanzas and Las Villas, where Maximo Gomez is supposed to be.

Receivership for the W. & L. R.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 10.—A receivership for the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad was applied for before United States Circuit Judge Taft in chambers Friday afternoon, and the petition was granted. An attempt was made to stop the affair a second time, but it failed but for what reason does not appear. Myron T. Harlick and Robert Bickensdier were appointed as receivers.

Death of Count Cassel.

THE INHUMAN

Edict of Weyler Felt in Havana and Matanzas Provinces.

It Deprives Peaceful Citizens of Their Rightful Means of Existence.

A Legal Point Spring by the Foreign Secretary, Weyler, in the United States.

Key West, Fla., Jan. 10.—Advice from Havana state that the effect of Weyler's famous Bayate edict of the 1st instant is being felt with more intensity in the provinces of Havana and Matanzas than in that of Pinar del Rio, since these provinces being more fertile and more densely populated and with more farms and estates than the former, the whole sale abandonment of the properties and the concentration of the people in the towns will not only augment the misery already prevailing, but will also present the serious inconvenience of lodging so many people in towns already full to overflowing.

Without discussing Weyler's inhuman measures in thus depriving peaceful and unoffending citizens of their rightful means of existence, and adding them in already crowded spaces, exposed to all the rigors of hunger and disease, simply for the sake of clearing the country of so-called rebel sympathizers, a legal point has been sprung upon the foreign secretary, Weyler, in the United States.

Weyler distinctly states in his decree that those who wish to remain on their properties must exhibit the tax bill paid. As taxes are levied on the productive industries of the country, and the planter has not been able to work on account of the abnormal condition of the provinces since General Weyler's invasion in December, 1895, no taxes have been collected since that time, the government tacitly admitting such unusual circumstances or being powerless to collect them because the rebels were in possession of the country.

Weyler distinctly states in his decree that those who wish to remain on their properties must exhibit the tax bill paid. As taxes are levied on the productive industries of the country, and the planter has not been able to work on account of the abnormal condition of the provinces since General Weyler's invasion in December, 1895, no taxes have been collected since that time, the government tacitly admitting such unusual circumstances or being powerless to collect them because the rebels were in possession of the country.

GEORGE COX & SON.

New York Weekly Tribune

FOR FARMERS AND VILLAGERS,

FOR FATHERS AND MOTHERS

FOR SONS AND DAUGHTERS,

FOR ALL THE FAMILY.

With the close of the Presidential campaign the Tribune recognizes the fact that the American people are now anxious to give their attention to home and business interests. To meet this condition, politics will have far less space and prominence, until another state or National election demands a renewal of the fight for the principles for which the Tribune has labored from its inception to the present day and won its greatest victories.

Every possible effort will be put forth and money freely spent to make the Weekly Tribune pre-eminently a National Family Newspaper, interesting, instructive, entertaining and indispensable to each member of the family.

JUDGE DENNY'S SLUR.

He Makes an Unwarranted Reference to Editor Sam Roberts.

A special to The Courier-Journal says it has been rumored for several days that Judge George Denny had written to President elect McKinley regarding the Collectorship in Lexington.

The report had it that the letter had been sent to Mr. Sam J. Roberts, who was showing it to several of his close friends.

A reporter met Judge Denny and asked: "Judge, what about those letters you wrote Mr. McKinley about the Collectorship?"

The Judge replied: "I don't know a thing about any such letters. I never wrote a letter to McKinley on any such subject in my life. I never asked him or anybody else for the office, and I don't intend to. I have been a consistent party worker all my life, and if the party decides to throw such a man overboard for a half-hearted worker in the party's service I am satisfied and will continue the practice of law just as before."

The Judge's unmistakable reference to Mr. Roberts when he says "a half-hearted worker" is creating much comment in Republican circles.

It has been known for some time that the best of feeling did not exist between the two gentlemen, and it is more than likely that an open breach is imminent.

It will be remembered that Mr. Roberts was supposed to have been largely instrumental in preventing Judge Denny from running for Congress, and it is well known that Mr. Roberts has been entirely too conservative to suit the Judge's ideas of what a Republican Editor should be, and has never exploited Judge Denny as a great Republican leader.

The interview is interpreted to mean that Denny is convinced that Roberts has the whip hand.

It's all a blanket lie!

In Louisville Mr. Roberts was asked in regard to the reports of strained relations between himself and Judge George Denny, Jr., over the Collectorship. "There is absolutely no truth in the stories; all this stuff has its foundation in the political mendacity of a rival Lexington newspaper, which, not unaturally, seeks to create dissension among Republicans. The connection with which my journalistic contemporary now seeks to create friction is a yarn to the effect that Judge Denny has written Major McKinley, asking for the Lexington Collectorship, and that his letter is in my possession, and has been shown to my friends."

"I hope to be appointed Collector, and if I am, my pleasure will be tempered by the regret that other good Republicans may be disappointed. I had every reason to believe that another good Republican from Lexington would be a powerful candidate for Collector."
